SONY
HOME

Room to relax…a place to retreat…space for spending time with friends and family…

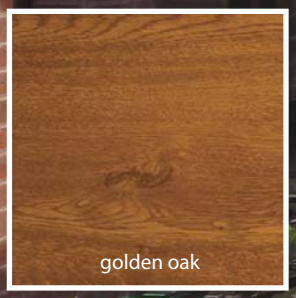
There are lots of reasons to make a conservatory part of your home.

Whether it's natural light, the space in your house…or the views over your garden. A specially designed conservatory will bring a whole new dimension to your home.

Whether you're watching the children play outside or taking some time out for yourself, your conservatory is your space for enjoying life, long into the future.

It's your choice.....

mahogany



golden oak

cherry

All of the above wood foil profiles are available on both the inside and outside of the building. Or to complement the style of your home, combinations of these colours with white are also available.

Your choice - white, woodgrain or both

Your choice - glass or polycarbonate

Keep cool in your conservatory by adding solar controlled glass – that's intelligent glass that keeps your conservatory cooler in the summer and warmer in the winter - there's even a self cleaning option.

Your design

1. Lean to a conservatory with a single slope for a roof
2. Gable an Edwardian shaped conservatory that does not slope back at the front of the conservatory, leaving a triangular shaped window frame to the front elevation
3. Edwardian a square fronted conservatory with a ridge central in the roof
   Georgian another name for the Edwardian
4. Victorian a bay fronted conservatory with a ridge central in the roof, normally with three or occasionally five segments at the front
5. P-shape a combination shaped conservatory usually made with a lean to at the side of a Victorian or Edwardian shaped conservatory
